Taking the Worst of the Worst Off the Streets

Tyshawn Williams, aka “Infer-Red”, a known member of the “Bloods” street gang, was wanted by the Newark (NJ) Police Department on murder and robbery charges and by the Dover (DE) Police Department on robbery charges. Earlier in 2005, Williams was involved in the armed robbery of a local business in Dover, Delaware. On the week of December 5, 2005, Williams committed several random street robberies at gunpoint in the Newark, New Jersey area. On December 17, 2005, Williams allegedly shot a victim in the back, killing him, during a carjacking in Newark. Williams was placed on the Essex County Prosecutors Most Wanted List. During the course of the investigation it was discovered that Williams was staying at a relative’s house in Uniondale, New York. Surveillance was set up at the target location and on December 29, 2005, members of the NY/NJ Regional Fugitive Task Force were able to gain entry to the residence. Williams was observed sleeping on a bed in the rear bedroom and was arrested without incident. The subject was transported to the Nassau County Police Department’s Fugitive Squad in Mineola, New York for processing and is pending extradition to New Jersey.
Southeast Regional Fugitive Task Force	 Darius Daniel Wanted for Aggravated Assault
On December 29, 2005, investigators from the Southeast Regional Fugitive Task Force (SERFTF) arrested Darius Daniel at a residence in east Macon, Georgia. Daniel was wanted for aggravated assault, stemming from a drive-by shooting in which Daniel allegedly shot two individuals. The shooting was allegedly in retaliation against a rival drug gang that had previously robbed Daniel of a large quantity of narcotics. Daniel was also wanted on federal supervised release charges, with an original charge of assault on federal officers. These charges stemmed from a prior arrest in Macon during which Daniel pulled a handgun on arresting deputy U.S. marshals while struggling to avoid arrest. Immediately following the drive-by shooting, the Macon Police Department contacted SERFTF for assistance. Intense investigation by SERFTF, with assistance from the U.S. Marshals Technical Operations Group, led to several possible locations for Daniel in Macon. At the time of his arrest, a fully loaded .12 shotgun was recovered. Daniel’s record includes arrests for murder, aggravated assault, and narcotics.

Pacific Southwest Regional Fugitive Task Force

Rene Sandoval and Monica Deanda were arrested in Rialto, California on December 29, 2005 by members of the Pacific Southwest Regional Fugitive Task Force (PSWRFTF) and parole agents from the California Department of Corrections – Law Enforcement & Investigations Unit (LEIU). Sandoval, a parolee with priors for kidnapping, assault with a deadly weapon, cruelty to children, and narcotics violations, was wanted by the LEIU for parole violation and by local law enforcement agencies in the Inland Empire area in connection with a number of residential burglaries. Deanda was also wanted in connection with the burglaries. On December 26, 2005, Sandoval and Deanda allegedly burglarized the home of a police officer and stole the officer's firearm and credentials. Local authorities and the LEIU requested PSWRFTF assistance in locating and apprehending Sandoval and Deanda. Working in conjunction with the USMS Financial Surveillance Unit (FSU), investigators identified a vehicle that was associated with Sandoval. Following a series of surveillances, interviews and canvasses, investigators located the vehicle at a residence in Rialto, California and established surveillance. Investigators observed Sandoval leave the residence and get into the vehicle as a passenger. Following a brief rolling surveillance, a felony traffic stop was conducted and Sandoval was arrested without incident. The driver of the vehicle, also a parolee, was arrested for parole violation. Investigators returned to the residence where the surveillance had been initiated and arrested Deanda inside the residence. A subsequent search led to the recovery of two illegal weapons which were confiscated and booked into evidence. Sandoval and Deanda were transported to the San Bernardino County Jail where they were booked for burglary, felon in possession of a firearm, possession of illegal weapons and parole violation. The driver was turned over to LEIU and booked for parole violation.

Capital Area Regional Fugitive Task Force

On March 11, 2005, officers from the Metropolitan Police Department (MPD) responded to a call for a shooting in S.E., Washington, D.C. Upon their arrival, officers found a victim suffering from multiple gunshot wounds to the torso. Though the victim was breathing when he was found, he ultimately died of gun shot wounds which perforated both his heart and lungs. The death was ruled a homicide. After investigation, MPD detectives were able to identify the suspect as Floyd Young, aka "Tooth," a known assailant of the area. On December 16, 2005, a warrant was issued for Young, charging him with first degree murder while armed. The case was immediately given to the Capital Area Regional Fugitive Task Force (CARFTF) for apprehension. CARFTF officers were able to pinpoint an area in S.E. Washington, D.C. where Young was known to frequent and on the morning of December 21, 2005, arrested him there without incident.

Great Lakes Regional Fugitive Task Force
On January 4, 2006, Michael Bradley was arrested in Chicago, Illinois by members of the Great Lakes Regional Fugitive Task Force (GLRFTF). Bradley was wanted by the Chicago Police Department (CPD) for sexual assault, numerous residential burglaries, armed home invasion, and possession with intent to deliver cocaine. All the crimes Bradley committed occurred in the DePaul University area. It is alleged that during one of the burglaries, Bradley encountered a female at the residence and assaulted her. Bradley had recently been paroled from the Illinois Department of Corrections (IDOC) where he had been incarcerated for burglary. Task Force investigation revealed several addresses for Bradley in Chicago, Illinois. Surveillance was established at several known locations where Bradley was known to frequent. On January 4, 2006, Bradley was seen entering one of these locations and was placed under arrest without incident. After Bradley's arrest, a DNA match was established and he gave a full confession to the crimes.	   Michael Bradley   Wanted for Sexual Assault, Armed Home Invasion, Possession with Intent to Deliver Cocaine, and numerous Residential Burglaries
